Hostel Management:

For smooth and efficient management of all the hostel blocks and to provide better academic environment to all the students staying as well as to look after their all routine works/activities, there is sufficient supervisory staff consisting of a rector, assistant rectors, store keeper, care takers/attendants. Moreover, Director of students' welfare, Principals and Deans of various faculties, staff of Executive Engineer is also providing necessary help and fund as per the need of time.

Mess Management:

There are self-messes in each hostel block managed by the students themselves and monitored by the concerned assistant rector and rector from time to time. The deposit is collected from every student at the time of admission which is deposited in authorized bank accounts and utilized as per requirement. The management of these self-messes is handling by the Hostel mess Committee. The every mess has four/five student members chosen from all the semesters by concerned assistant rector and rector by calling either general body meeting of all students or according to the prevailing situation. The respective hostel rector assigning works as mess secretary, kothari (store keeper) and account related to the student committee members. The secretary and Kothari maintain mess account, stores and make necessary purchases through cooperative store or places approved by mess committee. Mess bill is calculated on the last working day of the month in the presence of all the members of mess committee and assistant rector of the concerned hostel. The bill then placed on the notice board of the concerned hostel block. The mess bill shall be paid by the student members every month within a week of its declaration. The defaulter is liable to fine Rs. 2.00 per day for late payment. Who fails to pay the bill by 15th of the following month shall not be allowed to take their meals in the mess and the dues may recover from their mess deposits. The defaulter may be re-admitted to the mess by the assistant rector/rector on payment of all the outstanding dues along with fine of Rs. 50/-.
