Sir/Madam

Sub; Inviting registrations for the Online Training Programme on Labour Codes for Agricultural Workers

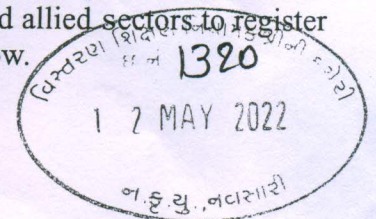

Greetings from National Institute of Agricultural Extension Management (MANAGE), Hyderabad Labour played a pivotal role in India's development journey. The share of agricultural workforce in total workforce declined from 56.7% to 48.8% during the year 2020-21. This brings to the fore that fewer people are being added to the workforce in agriculture and highlights the net migration to other sectors. Factors such as higher remuneration and growth of opportunities in alternate sectors coupled with the relatively lower rise in wages in agricultural occupations as compared to other sectors have led to the migration of workforce away from agriculture resulting in labour shortage and consequent escalation of cost of cultivation.

The policy initiatives by the Central and State Governments plays a major role in reduction of migration of agricultural laborers to other sectors. Most of the officials working in agriculture and allied departments are not having awareness on the labour laws in force across the country. Hence, an online training program on Labour Codes for Agricultural Workers is formulated by MANAGE in collaboration with V.V Giri National Labour Institute-Noida from 14-06-2022 to 17-06-2022 with an objective to provide awareness on labour codes and to discuss legal provisions for Agricultural Labourers from gender perspective.

The training program will help the officials working in agriculture and allied departments to gain knowledge and awareness about the labour laws and helps in prevention of migration of agriculture labour to other sectors. Hence, it is informed to all the officials working in the agriculture and allied sectors to register for the training program. The registration link for the training program is given below.
